LITTLE ATHLETICS CENTRE
CENTRE NO. 112

PRIVACY INFORMATION POLICY

Revised June 2026

Privacy Information Policy

Whittlesea City Little Athletics Centre (WCLAC) understands the importance of protecting your right to privacy and have prepared this policy to help you understand how we aim to protect the privacy of your personal information.

LA Vic has informed the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner of its desire to 'opt in' to abide by the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs), as set out in the Privacy Act (1988, Commonwealth). Accordingly, and by extension, there are implications for Centres pertaining to the processes by which they collect, hold, use and disclose membership information.

The WCLAC Privacy Information Policy outlines the type of personal information that we need to collect; how we collect, use and store that information; when we disclose that information; the update of, and access to that information; and who to contact should you have any concerns regarding the use by WCLAC of your personal information.

LA Vic Privacy Policy

In December 2019, LA Vic sought to 'opt in' and to update its Privacy Policy to enhance the standards of its governance, and reduce the associated risks, around the management of what are significant volumes of membership and stakeholder data it collects, holds, uses and discloses. Higher standards of governance will better protect members' rights. In rare instances, these changes may enhance the overall experience of Little Athletics; for most, hopefully, the Policy will have little if any bearing, from week to week.

Much of the member information is of a personal and sensitive nature and with this comes the enormous responsibility of ensuring it is handled properly at all times. While the standards required of the Australian Privacy Principles are high, and may even be, at times, inconvenient, compliance will significantly reduce the risk of the occurrences of data breaches – deliberate or accidental - at LA Vic, Region, Centre and Club levels.

Some additional points in LA Vic's Privacy Policy of relevance to Regions/Centres/Clubs:

- Anonymity & pseudonymity: members have the option of remaining anonymous or using a pseudonym. This may have relevance when a member is being registered, entering an event, or having their Commonwealth Bank bib printed, for example.
- Collection of information: LA Vic and Affiliated Centres (by extension) cannot collect personal information unless it is reasonably necessary for Little Athletics related activities. The 'that's the way it's always done' processes all organisations have, carried over from year to year, may now actually contravene the APPs.
- Means of collection: LA Vic collects the majority of its personal information via the official online registration system.
- Security of personal information: LA Vic is responsible for its member's personal information. This responsibility extends to other stakeholders, such as LAA, Regions, Centres and Clubs – should personal information be shared with these. Accordingly, these procedures may be refined in due course to attain compliance with the Act.

- Access to personal information: the Policy sets out formal processes whereby members can request access to their personal information held by LA Vic.
- Notifiable data breaches: LA Vic is obligated to notify affected individuals and the Australian Information Commissioner in the event of an eligible data breach. An eligible data breach may occur if LA Vic, LAA, Regions, Affiliated Centres, Clubs or other parties with whom personal data is shared for the purposes of Little Athletics activities experience:
 - unauthorised access to, or disclosure of its personal information;
 - serious harm to one or more individuals;
 - no reduction in risk of serious harm with remedial action undertaken.
- Complaints: the Policy sets out a process where complaints are to be directed in writing to the CEO of LA Vic in the first instance.
